*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Revise the title to spotlight the 16% price advantage (£130 vs £154.60 median) and key transport links, increasing click-through rates.
- 2 Create a compelling 200–300 word description that includes the 4.96 rating, 98 reviews, capacity for 4 guests, and proximity to NEC, BHX, and HS2 to improve conversion.
- 3 Add high-value amenities — a balcony, guest parking, and a TV/streaming setup — to match market expectations and justify the price.

Use a high-resolution shot of the living area showing the panoramic view from the top floor as the cover photo; it instantly highlights the 'penthouse' feel and the property's prime location.
