realistic 90d upside*

*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Cover photo is not the kingbed shot; swapping it could boost clickthrough rates (48 photos currently, but the lead image isn't the most compelling).
- 2 Missing in-unit washing machine and dryer – adding them or highlighting the laundry service more prominently could raise appeal, especially for families staying up to 4 guests.
- 3 Title omits high-value perks like free parking and self-checkin; a revised title would better match search queries and could help fill the 40 open nights (~£1,219 realistic upside).
