

your listing, rebuilt.

30 open nights on your calendar in the next 90 days.

At your £130/night rate, filling even a third of those nights is worth ~£1,300.

This report shows what's holding the listing back — with the fixes ready to paste in.

Demand signal		6/10

*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Title underperforms at 25% length (max 50 chars, 0 chars used for property type/kindness flags)
- 2 Description score at rock-bottom 1/10 due to no content — critical for converting price-competitive guests
- 3 Amenities score 1/10 lacks 3 high-value categories (Outdoor, Parking, Entertainment) that could boost £130 rate's competitiveness

Amenity gaps guests filter for

- Outdoor seating/patio
- On-site parking (not explicitly listed)
- Stream-ready entertainment system

Start with a clean exterior shot of the cottage to establish trust, followed by the living room to showcase space. Outdoor areas should be prioritized if available.
