*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Revise the title to highlight the 49% price advantage (e.g., include “49% cheaper than Birmingham average”), which will improve SEO and click-through rates.
- 2 Add high-value amenities such as a private garden/patio, free on-site parking, and entertainment options; these are missing and can boost desirability.
- 3 Upload at least 8 professional photos covering the exterior, living room, kitchen, and both bedrooms; the current unknown photo count likely hurts visual appeal and occupancy.

Use a high-resolution exterior shot showing the leafy front garden as the cover photo - it instantly conveys the tranquil suburb vibe and attracts clicks.
