realistic 90d upside*

*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 The nightly rate of £190.4 is 82% higher than the cohort median of £104.90, which may be contributing to the lower occupancy rate of 34.8% compared to the cohort median of 48.9%
- 2 With 0 reviews, the listing is at a disadvantage, and increasing the review count to at least 5-10 reviews could significantly improve occupancy
- 3 The photo count of 32 is higher than the cohort median of 23, but ensuring that the most appealing photos are showcased first could further enhance the listing's appeal

The cover photo should be the Hot Tub or Whirlpool Jacuzzi Hot Tub to showcase the unique selling point of the property, as it's the strongest differentiator and will grab the attention of potential guests.
