realistic 90d upside*

*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Your nightly rate (£109) is only 4% above the market median (£104.90) yet you have 44 open nights, leaving ≈£4,800 of unearned revenue – consider a targeted discount or dynamic pricing to boost occupancy.
- 2 The current title omits high-impact keywords like “river view” and “parking”; adding these can improve click-through rates.
- 3 Your photo set is strong, but the cover image isn't the river-view balcony; swapping it to that shot can instantly showcase the best view and attract more bookings.
