*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Reduce the nightly rate from £1,218.40 — it is 688% higher than the market median of £154.60, which is a primary cause of the 18.5% occupancy versus the cohort median of 47.8%.
- 2 Correct the capacity mismatch: the listing shows a capacity of 4 guests but the title claims sleeps 12; align these numbers to avoid guest confusion and improve booking confidence.
- 3 Add high-value amenities (outdoor garden, parking for 3 vans, high-speed Wi-Fi and TV) and upload professional photos of each room, starting with a compelling cover image.
