*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Despite a 21% lower nightly rate (£122.4 vs median £154.60), occupancy is only 18.5% booked versus the market median of 47.8% – improve visibility and SEO to translate price advantage into bookings.
- 2 No high-value amenities are listed; adding outdoor space, parking, and entertainment could boost appeal for long-stay guests and raise occupancy.
- 3 Photo count is unknown, but listings in this market typically show 8-10 images; ensure at least one photo for each major room and a compelling cover to meet guest expectations.

Use a bright exterior/front-facade shot as the cover photo to immediately convey location and curb appeal; follow with living room, kitchen, bedroom and bathroom images to ensure full room coverage.
