*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Despite a nightly rate of £64.3 (39% below the city median of £104.90), occupancy is only 46.7% booked versus the cohort median of 48.9% — the low price isn't being highlighted enough to drive bookings.
- 2 The listing has just 9 photos compared with the market median of 23; adding at least 12 high-quality images of the bedroom, bathroom, kitchen, workspace, and building exterior will improve visual coverage.
- 3 Key guest expectation amenities are missing: heating/hot water, essential toiletries, and included parking — adding these will raise guest satisfaction and potential Superhost scores.
