*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Your nightly rate of £468.8 is +203% above the city median (£154.6) while occupancy is only 79.3% — a price drop could unlock many of the 19 open nights.
- 2 The current title is 50 characters, exceeding the preferred <50 char limit and missing key SEO terms; a shorter, keyword-rich title will improve search visibility.
- 3 Zero amenities are listed; adding high-value amenities such as outdoor space, parking, and entertainment can boost perceived value and attract more bookings.
