*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1

Your nightly rate of £2,540 is 1,543% higher than the city median (£154.60) while your 90day occupancy is only 15.2% (76 open nights); lowering the price will dramatically improve bookings.
- 2

No highvalue amenities are listed; adding and highlighting outdoor space, onsite parking, and entertainment will align the listing with the topperforming cohort.
- 3

The listing lacks professional photos; upload clear images of every room and set an attractive exterior shot as the cover to increase clickthrough rates.
