

your listing, rebuilt.

70 open nights on your calendar in the next 90 days.

At your £3,000/night rate, filling even a third of those nights is worth ~£70,000.

This report shows what's holding the listing back — with the fixes ready to paste in.

Demand signal		10/10

*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 £3000 rate is +1840% above £154.60 cohort median while occupancy at 21.7% is 52% below 47.8% market average
- 2 Description completely missing which removes any narrative to justify premium pricing
- 3 Title lacks location and unique value propositions that would attract buyers at this price point
