realistic 90d upside*

*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Priced at £636.60/night (312% above cohort median of £154.60) yet only achieving 25% occupancy vs market median 47.8% - suggesting significant overpricing for target market
- 2 No specific amenities listed despite being a 4.82-rated entire home property - missing opportunity to showcase differentiators
- 3 New host with 0 years experience and undefined guest expectations - lacks trust signals needed to justify premium price

Amenity gaps guests filter for

- Outdoor space or terrace for city views
- Secure parking options for extended stays
- Smart home entertainment systems

Prioritize the city skyline view from a window as the cover photo to immediately showcase the location advantage. This perspective anchors the listing's premium positioning while justifying the premium price point.
