*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Your nightly rate of £212.8 is 38 % above the city median (£154.6) while occupancy is only 64 % (32 open nights in 90 days) – consider a 10■15 % price adjustment to capture more bookings.
- 2 The description currently provides no detail; a compelling 200■300■word narrative highlighting the 4■guest capacity, 4.99 rating, and 50 % breakfast discount will improve conversion.
- 3 No amenities are listed; add high■value items like free parking, a private garden/patio, and entertainment (board games/streaming) to meet guest expectations and boost perceived value.

- Outdoor space (garden/patio)
- Dedicated parking
- Entertainment options (games, streaming)

Use a bright, wide-angle shot of the main living area with a view of the nearby pub as the cover photo; it instantly conveys the home's size, style, and the unique breakfast-discount perk.
