realistic 90d upside*

*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Add the three high-value amenities (outdoor space, dedicated parking, entertainment) — currently 0 listed, and they can help lift occupancy from the current 44.6 % toward the market median of 47.8 %.
- 2 Rewrite the title to spotlight the 11 % price advantage and EV charger; the current 50-character title lacks SEO focus and click-through power.
- 3 Upload at least 12 professional photos covering living room, kitchen, bedrooms, bathroom, exterior, and the EV charger, then set the exterior with charger as the cover — the listing's photo count is unknown but likely very low, driving the 1/10 image score.

Use a high-quality exterior shot that shows the EV charger and parking area as the cover photo; guests first notice convenience and parking.
