*Realistic upside assumes filling one third of your open nights at your current rate — a conservative scenario, not a promise; open nights may include dates you have deliberately blocked. How we scored: everything above comes from your live public listing — the 3-month availability calendar, photo set, title, description and review signals, captured on the date on the cover. Scores weight what guests see first when deciding to click: title and cover photo, then photos, then copy. No third-party estimates are used. Demand signal reflects how much of your next 90 days is already booked — steady bookings mean demand exists and presentation, not location, is the constraint. Where the diagnosis cites your review count, that's the listing's own public review total at capture (a new listing starts at zero even when the host profile has reviews).

What's holding you back

- 1 Reduce the nightly rate from £146.8 to closer to the market median (£104.9) – you're charging ~40% more while occupancy is only 52.2%, just 3.3% above the cohort median.
- 2 Add a high-value amenity such as air conditioning or a tumble dryer to justify the premium price and attract guests seeking extra comfort.
- 3 Increase the photo count from 17 to at least the market median of 23 and reorder to lead with a garden exterior image to improve visual appeal and click-through rates.
